

Growth of town:

- Why people like to stay close together in urban areas?
 - To facilitate defense against attack from outsiders
 - Man is social animal, gets satisfaction of living life in company of his fellows
 - Can develop many contacts, also can retain privacy
 - Urban area provide facilities like water supply, market etc

Green Belt of A Town/City

A green belt is a policy and land-use zone designation used in land-use planning to retain areas of largely undeveloped, wild, or agricultural land surrounding or neighboring urban areas. Similar concepts are greenways or green wedges, which have a linear character and may run through an urban area instead of around it. In essence, a green belt is an invisible line designating a border around a certain area, preventing development of the area and allowing wildlife to return and be established.

Benefits of creating a Green Belt around a city

The Greenbelt helps to direct development where it's most needed; where there are services, like hospitals, schools and roads to make better use of our expensive infrastructure. Limiting urban growth in rural areas saves farmland from being paved and encourages sustainable growth in our cities.
